Earlier we talked about unit trusts, investment trusts and other types of financial products.

Thinking of the first / second most valuable trust or investment you can think of, can you tell us if I just check, does the trust contain only your own assets or was it set up jointly with another person?

Who are the other people of the person in this household or with have you already included any of the assets in this trust when you were asked to give an estimate of the net worth of your household?

Is the net worth of your household the same as the net worth of the person in the household who has already been covered, or is it the net worth of the household in the first place?

Do you have any other assets with financial value that you have not covered in the interview?

How much would you estimate is the approximate current value of these assets?

Here are some things some people have said about savings and stock market investments.
